"PARROT" BRAND.

A choice biscuit is a high product of the baker's art. A biscuit to be choice should be dainty in make-up, delicate in flavor and have in it only the best and choicest material. This is the description of the PARROT BRAND of goods which we are now offering to the New York public direct from our extensive biscuit and cracker works on West st., from Bethune to West 12th st.

When we sent our biscuits on from the West they were accorded a hearty and appreciative elcome from the dealers and consumers of the Metropolis and vicinity, but now that our new factory is open and we have commenced baking we hope to give even better satisfaction than before.

Our sim always will be to make a product which is as nice as it is possible for a biscuit to be, and then to pack them so neatly and ornately that the eye shall be pleased before the palate is gratified. We have no fear of the popular verdict if a fair trial is made between our goods, the Parrot Brand, and those of any other concern in the country, and in this trial dealers and diners will find themselves free from any domination in a trade so important as one having to do with a staple food product. A liberal and progressive policy will be followed both in our manufacturing and business departments. Those who have not as yet had an opportunity to try our goods ought to ask their grocer at once for some of the Parrot Brand as sent out under our registered trade-mark. A first trial will certainly give satisfaction, since only high-class goods in artistic and beautiful packages will be found coming from our factory. The large investment made in our extensive modern plant indicates that we have come to stay.

As the law stan is the office of Superintend ent can only be filled by promotion, after a civil-aervice examination.

The only members of the uniformed force who can participate in such an examination are the four 1-succtors of Police.

Of these, Inspector Steers, it is expected, will soon be retired because of age. The retuaining three are Chief Inspector Byrnes and inspectors Williams and Conlin.

Should the Police Commissioners select and certify one of these men for examination for promotion, the others might compete with him in the examination; but such competition, says in high natherity, would avail them nothing, for the names of all three, should the Police Board for appointment, and the Commissioners could ratify their original choice.

This could be done, now that anding that Inspector Coulin is a war veteran, Chief Examiner Lee Phillips, of the Civil Service Board, asys, for the Veteran law does not apply to promotions, and a veteran has no priority of claim in such cases.
